

Unleash Your Creative Spark

2009 Creativity TeleClasses

based on the international best selling books,
The Artist's Way and Walking in This World

These 13 week classes are an opportunity to look at what excites you in life; a time to re-discover your creative nature. Come join the fun! Set your juiciness free through a dynamic writing process and create the life you're dreaming about. Maybe you want to...find a publisher, create an on-line business, teach Thai cooking classes, improve your current business, or maybe you are fresh out of a divorce and looking for your next step.

Or, anything else that you want to create in your life.

Katie Doran Watters, BS, CMT, is the facilitator. She is a published writer and healer living in Northern California. She has completed this process many times and is excited with the changes it has made in her life. She now offers support to those ready to take the leap.
